

Translation Manager for SDL Trados[®] Powered by xrow

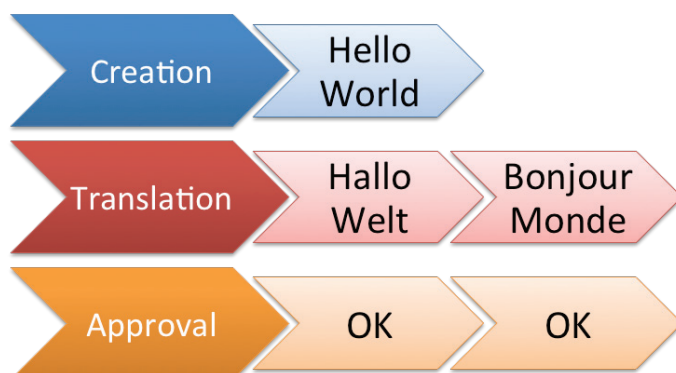

The xrow Translation Manager for SDL Trados[®] enables enterprise grade translations with SDL technology in eZ Publish[®] Enterprise Edition. SDL's computer-assisted translation software products are the de facto standard in enterprise-wide translation.

Optimize your globalization efforts with eZ Publish[®] Enterprise Edition and SDL Trados[®]. Translation Manager for SDL Trados[®] allows enterprises to increase their global reach by facilitating translation and localization efforts. Use the Translation Manager for SDL Trados[®] to streamline the workflow between your editorial teams and your in-house translation department or external translation agencies. The software ensures consistency and accuracy of translations across the company enabling localized markets to focus vital resources on managing the message.

The tight integration of SDL Trados[®] with eZ Publish[®] Enterprise Edition further automates the translation process, reduces time to market for translated projects and improves savings. Marketers can create high quality, multi-lingual content faster at a lower cost. Return on investment for this solution occurs quickly - after translating a couple hundred documents.
